

Flourishing in Challenging Times

2010 Fall Conference of the Southland Council of Teachers of English

SCTE is a local affiliate of CATE (California Association of Teachers of English)

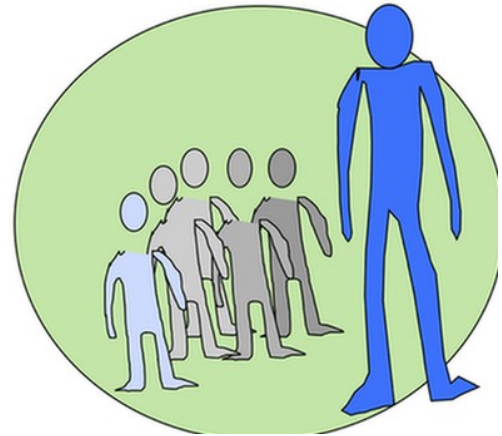

Saturday, October 9 , 7:30 am—3:30 pm

at The Radisson Hotel, Whittier, California

Explore ways you and your students can flourish with our featured speakers

MORNING SPEAKERS:

William Archila, a poet who writes of Central American unrest and the immigrant experience; author of The Art of Exile; and Randy Jurado Ertll, author of Hope in Times of Darkness: A Salvadoran American Experience and executive director of El Centro de Accion Social in Pasadena.

LUNCHEON SPEAKER:

Alan Sitomer, award-winning author of five young- adult novels, creator of The BookJam (a new curriculum tool), author of methodology texts for English teachers, and California's 2007 Teacher of the year

Stimulating break-out sessions, including

- ◆ Pia Alexander: teaching novels, emphasizing rhetoric
- ◆ Tracy Sprague:
- ◆ Janis Stallones
- ◆ Jo Anne Mitchell: The picture book -- far more than just pictures
- ◆ Jane Medina: Poetry for Your Diverse Classroom

SPECIAL RECESSION PRICING: $50 for SCTE members, $90 for non-members (includes price of membership), $10 for student teachers (enrolled in a student teaching program). Add $10 to registration after Sept. 30.

College credit available from LA Harbor College; some workshops meet GATE certification hours.

Name _____ Teacher for ____ years Other _____

School _____ District _____

Home address _____

e-mail _____ Home phone _____

_____ $ 50 CATE/SCTE Member registration

_____ $ 90 Registration, includes CATE/SCTE membership

_____ $ 10 Student teacher registration

Pay by credit card at www.CATEweb.org

Make checks payable to SCTE

Add $10 to registrations submitted after Sept. 30.

Send form to Richard Hockensmith, SCTE Registrar,

P.O. Box 363, Angeles Oaks, CA 92305

E-mail inquiries to hockscte@msn.com

For questions: Courtney Lockwood: courtney.mo3@verizon.net or Nancy Himel: nancy@colorfulsky.com